'Tis done! The tariff bill which Senator Teller, a life long republican, says is "full of absurdities, if not of crime, and is vicious, unfair, extravagant and unsatisfactory," passed the Senate Saturday by a vote of 40 to 30. The dispatches are particular to state the hour and the minute it passed and the time it was signed by the presiding officer. Speaker Reed put his fist to it at 3:07 P. M. and at 4:07 the crowning infamy was accomplished by the president taking his pen in hand and affixing his signature. It went into immediate effect and now we may look for the long promised prosperity, when people will be made richer by being taxed to death. With fine crops and an unusual demand for them abroad, we may look for an improvement in financial conditions, which designing and other fool republicans will endeavor to make ignorant people believe is due to the Dingley bill and its infamous system of protection and fostering of trusts combines and other inventions of the devils, who want to live from the sweat of honest labor. It has taken the republicans nearly four months to pass the bill. It will take the country 50 years to get over the evil effects of it. Immediately after the passage of the bill, Congress adjourned till December, the Senate declining to even consider the monetary commission bill fraud recommended by McKinley and passed by the House.

The very remarkable statement is sent that efforts are being made to indict Supt. W. F. Scott, of the Lexington Lunatic Asylum, because he is trying to run the institution as cheaply as possible. He has, it is claimed, saved already $25,000. The effort to indict seems to be by those who have been cut off from furnishing supplies, they claiming that the doctor's economy is at the expense of comfort of the inmates. On the other hand, the doctor says he found that a great deal of food was being wasted and that he simply cut the over supply down. The people will commend his efforts for retrenchment and reform and will be disgusted at this effort of interested parties to harass and annoy him.

Since the above was written the grand jury has reported, roasting the superintendent from stem to stern. The report accuses him of starving and stinting the inmates, simply to make a record of economy, and says that his helpless incapacity and ignorance alone save him from indictment. His continuance, it says, at the head of such an institution is a disgrace and Gov. Bradley is asked to dismiss him at once.

Dr. Scott makes a hot reply to the report and demands that he be given the right to produce proof that the charges are false.

The withdrawal of Mr. J. E. Lynn from the democratic ticket, which he headed, is to be regretted, for he is a clever, capable and popular gentleman. He has but little taste for politics, however, preferring the comforts and quiet of his home to scrambling for office, so for that and other reasons, he withdraws in time for the party to canvass the question well and nominate a good man in his stead.

The duty on diamonds is reduced from 25 per cent ad valorem in the Wilson bill to 10 per cent by the Dingley bill. The rich only can wear diamonds and sugar and other necessities of life are taxed for their benefit. The poor man is not taken into the account. He is regarded only as a necessary evil by the republican Congress and is made to pony up for the expenses of the government prodigally administered on every hand.

It is stated on good authority that James R. Keene made $2,000,000 on sugar stock in three days. But for the most unjust and iniquitous tariff ever foisted on a long suffering people such fabulous speculation could not have been made. Congress surrendered to the sugar trust, perhaps for a part of the swag—$15,000,000—which is given it by flching from the pockets of the people.

EXCEPT to pass an infamous tariff bill the work of the four months' extra session of Congress was, as Billy Allen used to say, a d—n barren ideality. Very little else was done and what was done better had been left undone.

By refusing to appoint committees, Speaker Reed was enabled to hold his jackasses in check and to exercise his own sweet will over them. Hope of chairmanships or fear of insignificant assignments made him have complete dominion over them and endorse his tyrannical action after Jerry Simpson had protested against it. On the last day of the session, he named the committees. Colson is the only Kentuckian to get a chairmanship and that is the comparatively important one of expenditures on public buildings. He is besides placed on claims and pensions; Davison is placed on elections No. 2 and expenditures in the war department; Evans is on ways and means and expenditures in the agricultural department; Pugh gets a place on appropriations and alcoholic liquor traffic; Clardy is re-appointed on the agriculture and also gets on the committee on claims; Berry on rivers and harbors, and foreign affairs; Fitzpatrick on pensions and patents; Dave Smith got on the judiciary, and on ventilation and acoustics; Settle election committee No. 1; Wheeler was treated worse than any other man in the delegation, only receiving a place on the committee on militia.

Who writes the so-called editorials for the republican papers in this section? We have been noticing for some time that there was a decided sameness of utterance by these alleged makers of public opinion and Friday last we compared the columns of the three before us when they had several articles exactly alike, while the editorial columns of two were almost an exact reproduction of the other and each palmed them off as original. A syndicate editorial writer is something new under the sun.

EDITOR FORRESTER, of the Frankfort Capital, turns his search light on Editor Roberts, of the Lexington Leader, and not only charges that he is guilty of duplicity in the Pewee Valley post-office case, but that he or Deboe and Bristow have lied, most likely he. Roberts has so far made no response, and his silence may possibly be construed into a confession of guilt.

TO J. E. CARSON, CHAIRMAN, AND THE MEMBERS OF THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE OF LINCOLN.

When I accepted the democratic nomination for county judge, which came to me unsolicited I did not know or believe that outside issues would be brought into the campaign. Such have arisen and not being in sympathy with them and feeling that I can not champion such measures I have decided to withdraw from the race. I have always been a democrat and expect to remain so, and am very anxious for the success of the splendid ticket you named in May last—excepting myself of course. Trusting that you will place in my stead a democrat, good and true, and pledging him my support in advance, I am very respectfully yours,

J. E. LYNN.

Stanford, July 24.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE.

Notice of the withdrawal of Mr. J. E. Lynn from the democratic ticket, for reasons stated in his letter, which appears in this paper, having been received I hereby call the committee to meet at Stanford at 10 o'clock Thursday, July 29th, to take steps to nominate another candidate for county judge. A full attendance is desired and all candidates for the office are requested to be present.

J. E. CARSON, Chm'n.
Dem. Co. Committee.

POLITICS

Collector John W. Yerkes is to take charge of the office July 31. Thomas Taggart was re-nominated by the democrats of Indianapolis for mayor.

Urey Woodson, of the Owensboro Messenger, has been appointed general manager of the Louisville Dispatch, a position he is very capable of filling.

The Richmond Register says that Gov. McCreary is besieged with appeals to announce his candidacy for Congress next year, but so far he has said neither yea nor nay.

Headman Bristow is beating all previous records in the matter of transferring the fourth-class post-master spoils to the victors. On June 31 he made 157 appointments and Saturday he scored 163.

Gov. Tanner, of Illinois, was roundly hissed when riding at the head of the Logan procession in Chicago Thursday. His utter surrender to the street car ring, sacrificing the people of Chicago, was the cause.

With the passage of the amended Dingley tariff bill the price of goods will at once advance and already merchants are busy marking up the values and poor people, with little money, will be the sufferers.

The Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL gives an exhaustive reply to one of Henry Watterson's long effusions. The Stanford editor writes most interestingly and sensibly.—Louisville Dispatch, which proceeds to copy part of the reply.

The first Southern colored man to secure recognition from the present administration was Henry A. Rucker, an Atlanta barber, who was appointed collector of internal revenue for the Georgia district, despite the vigorous opposition of the "Lily White" element.

Only one so-called democrat voted for the tariff bill, McEnery, of Louisiana, as did silver republican Jones and populist Stewart. Teller, Allen and Butler, all members of the silver combine, were present and refused to vote, while Kyle and Pettigrew were absent without pairs.

The democrats polled 140,000 votes in their primary in Louisville, the republicans polled 8,000. The readers of the Capital will please bear in mind our original, only genuine signature on each package prediction that Weaver will win by at least 5,000 majority and perhaps by as much as 8,000.—Frankfort Capital.

This amendment to the constitution will be submitted to the voters in November: The general assembly may by general laws, provide for taxation by municipalities of property other than lands and improvements thereon, based on income, licenses or franchises, which may be either in addition to or in lieu of ad valorem taxes thereon.

Chauncey Depew thinks that $100,000,000 in gold a year will come in from Alaska. We will then repudiate our obligations by paying them off in cheap gold. Silver will shoot up to the moon in price. Rothschild will become a silver bug and the gold bugs will change to silver bugs. The money devil will become an angel of mercy and hell will be a summer resort.

Says the Louisville Post, which is "agin' him: There is no combination, no diversion, no division, no fusion, which can prevent the election of Shackelford. Everybody knows it. The republican leaders know it, and the knowledge has reached even the innermost regions of "darkest Africa," and is consequently known even to the editor of the Courier Journal. The man who denies it merely sies against light.

Ten years ago it was not considered respectable to be a republican in Kentucky. Now it really isn't respectable to be a republican of the kind that is running party affairs here and at Washington. They used to call it the "nigger party" now the Negroes are about the only decent ones left who affiliate with the gang headed by Hunter, Deboe, Todd, Taylor, Franks, Sapp, Erdman and their tribe. And the Negro suffers in reputation by the association.—Frankfort Capital.

The bolterate convention, says the Carlisle Mercury, was one of exs. It was called to order by ex-Speaker Carroll; it was presided over by ex-Judge Sims; its permanent chairman was ex-Secretary Carlisle; ex-Gov. Buckner nominated ex-Lt. Gov. Hindman; it was addressed by ex-Congressmen Waterson and Breckinridge; ex-Circuit Clerk Orndorff was defeated; and the committees made up of ex-judges, ex-State Senators, ex-representatives and ex-candidates. Senator Lindsay was the only real live statesman in the bunch, and he would be an ex-Senator if those who elected him could get at him.

The ticket nominated by the republicans in Louisville is strictly an A. P. A. affair. Dr. Harris, who was nominated for coroner, expresses its sentiments as follows: "In accepting this honor I desire to state that I am an American citizen. I also want to state unequivocally that I am opposed to Catholicism. A religion that violates the second commandment. I am opposed to the confessional; I confess my sins only to my God. I am opposed to the man who sits in the Papal chair and calls himself Lord God. I want to say that if I am elected the first duty I shall perform will be to find out who dies in the convent and how they die."

News Briefly Told

John Fisher, a drunken Paris Negro, had his head cut off by a K. C. train.

Ephraim Brinkley, a murderer, was hanged by a mob at Nebo, in Hopkins county.

Six masked men tortured and robbed an old woman of $1,500 near Smithfield, W. Va.

All save 34 miles of the turnpike roads in Fayette county are free to public travel.

The grand jury at Lexington refused to indict Jacob Harris, the slayer of Thos. Merritt.

Dan Harris, who murdered a woman, was sentenced at Nashville to be hanged September 3.

J. S. Alsmen, of Virginia, has a deed to the land on which Frankfort is built and will sue for it.

To save the rebate Covington and Newport brewers bought $100,000 worth of beer stamps.

Mrs. Maggie Thornton, whose son was drowned Wednesday, dropped dead at Midway Saturday.

Four white men have been indicted in Nevada county, Ark., for attempting to drive Negroes out of the county by lawless methods.

The republicans nominated a county ticket in Anderson Saturday, headed by Bruce Severely, for county judge, a bolterate and a turncoat.

When five New York bloomer girls met a bear they promptly took to a tree. The sight of a mouse would probably have created a like stampede.

Dr. D. C. Scull, of Lebanon, Ind., died after fasting 49 days.

Pat McDonald, a Cincinnati cook, severed three fingers while attempting to chop a chicken's head off.

Archie McMullin, a white man, was sentenced at Conroe, Texas, to be hanged for assaulting a little girl.

Willis Meredith, county clerk of Edmonson county, short in his accounts $720, has left for parts unknown.

Lightning struck three small children of Jas. Williams, of Wolfe county, this State, killing two of them.

George Shoeman, a farmer living near Springfield, O., died after hicoughing day and night for a week.

A man who has just returned from the Alaska gold fields says it is hard to get along in Dawson City on less than $50 a day.

Steve Moore, of Owensboro, determined to kill himself, took 10 grains of morphine and drank a half ounce of laudanum.

Rollin Burt, of Muncie, Ind., was shot and killed while on his way to church by his pistol falling from his pocket and discharging.

Matthew Hayward, an old Federal soldier at Columbus, O., attempted to kill himself because he could not get an increase of pension.

The brothers of Dr. W. L. Ryder, who was hung by a mob at Talbott, Ga., took a solemn oath at his grave that they would avenge his death.

Bourbon county purchased from Col. W. W. Baldwin 18 miles of turnpike for $25,000. This frees all the roads in that county, making 350 miles in all.

A lady in Franklin, Ind., was killed by getting a grain of corn in her windpipe, which flew into her mouth while she was shelling corn to her chickens.

Special dispatches from Madrid state that the bodies of 26 infants in rough deal boxes, have been discovered in the tower of St. Peter's church at Seville.

John W. Chapman, individual book-keeper of the Georgetown branch of the Farmers Bank, has left for parts unknown. He is $2,000 or more behind.

The Indiana law restricting the sale of convict-made goods from the other States has been declared unconstitutional by Judge Fox, of the Wayne circuit court.

It develops that Lee Brazelton, who was supposed to have been drowned at Knoxville, is on his way to Alaska. He had tried to swindle insurance companies out of $8,500.

It is estimated that 40,000 people will be at Dawson, Alaska, by September 1, with food for less than 4,000. Thousands of lives must be sacrificed there from the thirst for gold.

The neighbors of Boyce Speicher, living near Detroit, Mich., gave him a coat of tar and feathers and ordered him to leave that section because he made vicious remarks about the women.

Lewis Redwine, who stole over $100,000 from the Gate City National Bank at Atlanta, Ga., and who has since been confined in the United States jail at Columbus, Ohio, has been willed a fortune.

Local option is succeeding well in Winchester. The police court used to be filled with drunks and disorderlies. The first month under the new state of things shows only two cases of any kind before the police court.

Ships are leaving for Alaska overloaded with more than their legal complement of passengers. Specially chartered vessels are loaded to the utmost. And yet the gold-crazed prospectors can not be taken to Alaska fast enough.

Renewed activity in the effort to enforce the prohibitory law is being manifested throughout Kansas. Temperance people have become alarmed over the boldness of the Jointists and are stirring up the officials to suppress the violators.

Oscar Williams, a Negro under arrest in Georgia for criminal assault, was taken from a train and lynched. The lynching of Williams is said to be part of a plan for a wholesale lynching bee, at which four other criminals are to be disposed of.

The 25th United States Infantry Bicycle Corps has completed its ride of 1,900 miles from Fort Missoula, Montana to St. Louis. The distance was covered in 40 days, only 35 of which were actually spent on the road. The average distance traveled each day was 52 1/2 miles. Over part of the route the daily average was 60 miles.

LANCASTER COURT.—A fairly good crowd attended yesterday, but little business of any kind was done. No cattle were offered publicly but a few of the 20 or 30 on the market changed hands privately. Good butcher stuff brought 2 1/2c; heifers and steers 3 to 3 1/2c; feeders 3 to 3 1/2c. Several milk cows brought $20 to $25.

Col. Underwood sold at Lancaster yesterday a sow and 8 pigs for $15 and a sow and 9 pigs for $12.30.
